

Subject had a clinically significant protocol deviation during the induction phase

Subject did not have all assessments and applications completed during the induction phase